

BEWARE

Carpenters Bearing Wires

Go with the Safest, Professional Work Force

You wouldn't take a hammer to a switch box, so why hire a carpenter to do the work of a skilled electrician? The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, founded in St. Louis in 1891, has a long record of safety, quality training and delivering value to our contractors and customers.

The Carpenters District Council of St. Louis has created a local to sign up electrical contractors who do not have high quality training programs or the standards of the IBEW and its signatory contractors. Don't be fooled. Your project needs the high quality electrical work that only the IBEW can provide. Choose the best.

IBEW: On Time. On Budget. On the job safely.

A message from the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers